

STOXX Europe 600 Derivatives

The broadest way to invest in Europe

COMPREHENSIVE COUNTRY AND SECTOR COVERAGE

The STOXX® Europe 600 index covers a wide range of industry sectors such as Health Care, Financials, Basic Resources, Energy, and more.

The index consists of the “GRANOLAS” (GlaxoSmithKline, Roche, ASML, Nestlé, Novartis, Novo Nordisk, L’Oréal, LVMH, AstraZeneca, SAP, and Sanofi) stocks, providing investors with greater European diversification as they include firms from the Nordic region, the UK and Switzerland. Today, performance of the “GRANOLAS” is comparable to the US “Magnificent 7”.

ONE DEVELOPED ECOSYSTEM

Designed by STOXX Ltd. in 1998, Eurex has listed a variation of the index derivatives, which includes the industry sector, size, dividend sector, size as well as ESG-X derivatives, over the years. Short-dated weekly options are introduced recently for investors to react timely to market conditions.

TRADING AND HEDGING IN ALL TIME ZONES

The STOXX® Europe 600 Index Futures are available for trading and clearing in different time zones. Accessing liquidity pools in all time zones helps global and regional investors react more quickly to market movements.

Key benefits?

Greater diversification, less concentration risk

The broad-based index consists of 600 firms from Europe, also covering countries like Switzerland, UK, and the Nordics.

GRANOLAS: A subset of STOXX® Europe 600 index

11 high-growth firms such as ASML, L’Oréal, LVMH, and SAP comprise 21% of the index.
